

TEUTON OFFENSIVE MAKES SLIGHT GAIN IN ARTOIS ON FRENCH FRONT

American flag and consequently to apprehend no danger. Unexpecting, and for what reason, Capt. Thompson yet does not know, the submarine recommenced its bombardment. Shots exploded in the water about the vessel. One finally penetrated the side and burst in the boiler room, wounding a sailor in the American ship's crew, a Dane named Larson. The Petrolite had come to a stop, broadside to the submarine, when this happened.

Capt. Thompson finally got away in his small boat to board the submarine, leaving instructions to his men to be ready to abandon his ship at any minute the Austrians made a suspicious move. The Austrian commander told Capt. Thompson he wanted to buy provisions from him. Capt. Thompson refused to sell any. To provision a submarine at sea is an unusual act and would have made Capt. Thompson liable.

The Austrian commander then told him he would take his provisions anyhow and ordered Capt. Thompson to put a man aboard the submarine as a hostage while the supplies were being transferred.

Take Off Many Supplies. The commander warned Capt. Thompson this man would be shot at the first suspicious move of his vessel. The submarine commander then, it is said, proceeded coolly to take supplies from the laager.

Officials of the state department who read the evidence in this case said that there was no other word that could be applied to the act except "piracy." It was, they said, a wanton and needless attack upon a neutral vessel, followed up with pure piracy.

It took the crew of the Petrolite three and a half hours to repair the damage done by the shots of the submarine, after which the ship made its way to Gibraltar. Larson's painful wounds were dressed as well as possible. The submarine commander, it is said, laughed when Capt. Thompson told him a man of his crew had been wounded and said it was a pity more were not.

Lusitania Case Closing. Although confident that no further attack will develop to interfere with the formal closing of the Lusitania controversy, officials of the American government and members of the German consular staff are making no comment for publication pending word from Berlin. It is expected that by Monday or Tuesday Count von Bernstorff will be able to present to Secretary Lansing a formal note from his government approving the terms of settlement.

At the same time this note is received, which will take the shape of a formal reply to the American note of July 21 last, Secretary Lansing will address to Berlin a formal acceptance, thus closing the final chapter of the correspondence.

Will Improve Relations. Indications are not lacking that settlement of the Lusitania controversy will improve relations considerably between the United States and Germany. Officials here of the Teutonic powers. The first evidence of this change in attitude was forthcoming today when it became known that Secretary of State and Mr. Lansing have issued instructions to the American ambassador in Berlin to be given next Friday morning in honor of Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador.

The only possibility living in the way of the speedy ending of the dispute is the refusal by the German foreign office to introduce a single change in the protocol agreed to by Count von Bernstorff yesterday at the suggestion of Secretary Lansing.

ZWIEDINEK AND LANSING CONFER ON ARMED VESSELS. Austrian Charge Reported to Have Protested Against Letting Ships Clear United States Ports.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9.—Baron Zwiedinek, Austrian charge d'affaires, called on Secretary Lansing today and discussed the question of armed vessels. He presented a formal memorandum from his government, but it is understood Austrian-Hungary objects to the United States permitting vessels entering and clearing from its ports to carry mounted guns. The United States has permitted a number of Italian steamers to arm to leave after the Italian ambassador has given assurances that the guns are for use only for defensive purposes.

Another Comes with Guns. Post Article, Tex., Feb. 9.—Armed with four inch guns, the Italian steamer Prometeo arrived here today from Genoa. Two of the guns were mounted forward and two of them aft. The Prometeo will take on a cargo of oil.

The resolution reads: "The (miners) of all actual attempts on the part of labor bodies to affiliate for a repeal of the conscription military bill."

GERMANS SEIZE FRENCH GROUND IN ARTOIS REGION

Heavy Fighting Is In Progress at Several Points Along the Western Front.

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—The official statement issued by the general army headquarters today was as follows: West of Vimy our troops stormed first line French positions over an extension of 800 yards, taking more than 100 prisoners and five machine guns. South of the Somme, the French again penetrated during the evening a small German trench section.

In Rolle Le Pretre an enemy aeroplane was shot down by our infantry. It fell in flames, its two occupants dead.

French Official Statement. PARIS, via London, Feb. 9.—The following official statement was issued by the war office tonight: In Belgium our heavy artillery continued the bombardment of the Ypres fort and the trenches in the region of Helles.

On the front extending from hill 140 to the road from Neuville to La Follie, the Germans yesterday exploded two mines. To the west of La Follie they were able to penetrate some portions of our trenches, but at certain points we drove them out by an effective hand grenade attack.

A rather intense artillery duel has been going on today between hill 119 and the road from Neuville to Thelus. The enemy, after having exploded a mine in front of our trench to the southwest of hill 140, directed against our positions an infantry attack which was repulsed.

Between Solennes and Reims, to the south of Ville aux Bois, we attacked with grenades a small post which the enemy was obliged to evacuate.

To the southwest of St. Mihiel our batteries poured extensive damage to the German organizations in the forest of Apremont.

Between 5:30 and 6:30 o'clock today the enemy threw seven shells on Bellefleur and its environs.

Big Forces Sent West. LONDON, Feb. 9.—Repeating the report that large numbers of German troops have been transferred recently to northern France, the Associated Press correspondent of the Central News telegraphed that it is reported from the Belgian frontier that 60,000 men have been sent to that front.

ADVERTISING CLUBS OFFER HELP TO DEFENSE PROGRAM.

Committee Lays Plan to Help National Preparedness Campaign Before the President.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9.—A national defense advertising campaign was laid before President Wilson today by a committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

The committee said it stood ready to prepare the campaign and carry it to fulfillment, utilizing assistance of newspapers and magazines and other advertising agencies, and secure the free services of leading writers, illustrators, engravers and printers.

"We seek the privilege," said a memorandum the committee left with the president, "of serving our country with all the capacity and power we possess in mobilizing the United States for national defense and for international service."

The committee, headed by Herbert E. Houston of New York, president of the association, P. S. Foran of Indianapolis, Secretary A. E. Wood of Des Moines, and William Woodhead of San Francisco, also presented a plan for mobilization resources for national defense and for international service.

A conference of neutral nations with the object of formulating a plan for a world court is the feature of the latter.

Where Germans Took Trenches in First Line of the French.

German attacks west and southwest of Vimy, in the Artois region, resulted in the capture of 800 yards of French first line trenches. Parts says some of the positions were retaken later. It was in this same region that the Germans recently captured 1,600 yards of French positions.

BRITISH LEADER IN AFRICA QUILTS

Gen. Smith-Dorrien Gives Up Command of the Campaign Against Germans.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Gen. Sir Horace Lockwood Smith-Dorrien has relinquished command of the British forces operating in East Africa, owing to ill health, it was officially announced tonight.

Gen. Jan Christian Smuts, the minister of the interior, mines, and defenses of the unit of South Africa, has accepted the vacancy with the rank of temporary lieutenant general, the announcement added.

On Dec. 14 last Gen. Smith-Dorrien, who had commanded the British second army in Flanders, was appointed to the supreme command of the forces operating in East Africa. That he was in active command there was indicated as recently as Feb. 2, when an official statement issued in London embodied a report from him on satisfactory progress that was being made with the campaign.

While the British expedition against German East Africa was organizing in November, Gen. Smuts was placed in command, and early in December announced that the entire force asked for the expedition had been recruited. The sending of Gen. Smith-Dorrien to Africa to take the supreme command of all the forces for the East African operation followed shortly thereafter.

GERMAN MAKES AIR VOYAGE TO GET ENEMY TROUSERS.

Note Dropped in British Lines Causes English Fleet to Return with German.

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—A new illustration of how the activities of warfare are observed by hostile armies is given by a letter from a German aviator to the western front.

This aviator was a participant in an aerial battle in which a British aeroplane was shot down and one of the aviators killed. The second was uninjured in person, but in landing his trousers had been irreparably damaged.

The aviator, this affixed, the German letter writer says, was so distressed that the German aviator mounted an aeroplane and dropped a note into the British lines. An hour later an English flyer appeared, returning the call, and dropped a bundle containing new trousers for his comrade.

GERMAN CANNON HURLING SHELLS OVER THE DVINA

Intense Artillery Duel Being Fought on Dvinsk Front; Big Guns Brought Up.

PETROGRAD, Feb. 9.—Severe fighting again is developing on the Dvinsk front, preliminary artillery duels having been succeeded by a continuous bombardment of great intensity on both sides.

The Germans, who had taken the initiative in the new conflict, attacked the railway station at Litsko, on the east bank of the Dvina, seven miles northwest of Dvinsk. This would appear to indicate a serious penetration of the Russian lines, but the Russian staff explains that the German forces were unable to advance, still occupying their old positions, and succeeded in reaching Litsko only by using heavy artillery, which they now have had time to mount.

Russian War Office Report. The following official communication was issued today: There has been a lively artillery action on our left flank in the Riga sector. In many places our artillery dispersed German working parties and also caused a great explosion in the enemy's lines in the region of the Baldon road.

In the sector of the Dvina river at Litsko-Harkani, between Jacobstadt and Dvinsk and near Dvinsk, there has been an intense artillery and rifle fire, with particular activity by the heavy guns on both sides of the Pomeranich railway.

In Galicia, to the northwest of Turzopol, the enemy fired heavy caliber explosive shells against the sector of Glinka-Vorobivka.

Russians Cross Dnieper River. Northwest of Zale Sessky we occupied Usteczek, where our troops crossed to the western bank of the Dnieper. Southwest of Zamosyn, on the Dnieper below Zale Sessky, the enemy inadvertently blew up a small mine. The explosion destroyed a portion of his trenches. Southwest of Zale Sessky a priest fell a victim to his duty while blessing with the cross the killed and wounded close to the enemy entanglements.

On the Black sea on Tuesday our torpedo boats in the coal region sank a small steamer.

On the Caucasus front our troops have dislodged the Turks from a series of positions in the vicinity of the Arkharav river.

Believe Germans Must Retire. Regarding the security of the strong German fortifications which were erected along the southern front during "Field Marshal von Hindenburg's campaign against Dvinsk, Russian military critics believe they will remain effective only as long as the ground remains frozen and in the early spring the German positions, including Mitau, will become untenable.

Little importance, therefore, is attached in these circles to the persistent predictions of a great German offensive against Riga and Dvinsk in March, since Russian military men have been convinced by the failure of Von Hindenburg's last efforts to take Dvinsk that even under conditions favorable to the Germans the Dvinsk-Riga line is impregnable.

German Official Statement. BERLIN, Feb. 9.—The German war office today issued the following statement: Minor Russian attacks, made in the neighborhood of Iloukai, northwest of Dvinsk, and against the field mail train that we captured on Feb. 8, on the Baranovich-Lyakhovichi railway, were repulsed.

SEPARATE PEACE OFFERS ARE GIVEN TO BELGIANS.

Papal Munio Reported to Have Carried Message Which Contained Offer of Germany.

ROME, Feb. 9.—The Giornale d'Italia states that Monsignor Tacet Porcelli, the papal nuncio to Belgium, presented to Belgium Germany's proposals for a separate peace. Whether or not he was authorized to do so by the Vatican, says the newspaper, has not been ascertained.

It is said that Germany, through Prince von Bielow and other prominent persons, has indicated that the terms she is ready to offer to Belgium for the conclusion of a separate peace comprise the restoration of Belgium to the government of King Albert and the payment of a large indemnity for damage caused by the invasion and the occupation, and that she asks in return economical and commercial privileges which would practically transform the port of Antwerp into a German center of traffic. To these proposals Belgium is said to have replied with a prompt refusal.

AUSTRIANS PUSH ON IN ALBANIA

Tentons Twelve Miles from Durazzo; Enemy Offers No Serious Opposition.

SERBS CLAIM SUCCESS. LONDON, Feb. 9.—Reports from Athens are to the effect that the central powers and their allies have abandoned or indefinitely deferred the attack on Saloniki.

The Daily Chronicle's correspondent ascribes these reports to notorious anti-entente sources and says they are believed to constitute a ruse.

VIENNA, Feb. 9.—The following official statement was issued today: The Austro-Hungarian troops, operating in Albania, have crossed the river Im and occupied Prevala about twelve miles northeast of Durazzo, and the heights northwest of the town. The enemy, composed of remnants of Serbian units, Italian detachments, and Enad Pasha's mercenaries, avoided battle and retreated toward the south and southeast.

Only when occupying Valis, about five miles northwest of Tirana, did a short battle develop. In the enemy was repulsed. Our troops have recently repeatedly bombarded with mortars the troop camps near Durazzo and Italian steamers lying in the harbor there.

In Montenegro the situation is quiet. The disarming of the Montenegrins has been completed.

Serbian Boat Pursuing Two. CORFU, Feb. 9, via London, Feb. 9.—A Serbian official statement issued today tells of a chase between an Austro-Hungarian torpedo boat and two Serbian boats on the Adriatic.

The statement follows: The Austrian troops, after occupying Albania, which we evacuated, occupied the town of Durazzo. The fourteenth mountain brigade on Feb. 1, with the cooperation of a number of armed Albanian bands, came into contact with some troops of the rear guard of one of our divisions.

Violent and bloody fighting occurred on Feb. 2 near the village of Blama. The enemy succeeded in pressing our troops, but when reinforcements had come up a night attack was delivered and our forces retook all the positions they had just lost and put the enemy to flight. The battlefield was covered with bodies of the enemy. We took about 100 prisoners, mostly Hungarians.

Reports 75,000 Serbs at Corfu. PARIS, Feb. 9.—The number of Serbian troops which have reached the island of Corfu is estimated at 75,000 by a correspondent of the Petit Parisien, who says that in two days 100,000 Serbs will have arrived there and the evacuation of Albania will have been completed.

FOOD SHIPPED TO GERMANY. Some Journal Asserts Granting Official Food Supplies Requested for Use of People.

ROME, Feb. 9.—The correspondent of a Rome newspaper was informed today by a neutral diplomatic source that Turkey is in contact with a famine and that the Germans are prepared to accept it. The informant pointed out that Turkey itself is to blame for this, since until recently it extensively requisitioned its local products and sent most of them to Germany under the auspices of War Minister Enver Pasha.

Immediately after Turkey joined the central powers a company was formed, entitled Societa d'Approvvigionamento, with the object of buying up all available foodstuffs, especially in Asia Minor. These foodstuffs were supposed to be resold at cost price to the population. The products, however, were instead both profitably exported to Germany and resold to Turkey at prohibitive prices.

In this way Enver Pasha is said to have benefited to the extent of 800 daily, this being his share of the profits. The new company built a lavishly furnished palace at Constantinople and invited, among others, the American ambassador to Turkey, Mr. Morgenthau, for the house warming event. Meanwhile the people are practically starving.

GERMAN AIRMEN MAKE RAID OVER ENGLISH COAST

Bombs Are Dropped Near Towns of Ramsgate and Broadstairs in Kent County.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Two women and one child were injured this afternoon when two German aeroplanes raided the Kentish coast, dropping bombs. Three missiles fell on the outskirts of Ramsgate and four near a school at Broadstairs. The material damage is said by the war office to have been confined to the shattering of glass.

The attack was made in broad daylight. A number of naval and military aeroplanes were seen to attack the German planes, but they immediately retreated. As no engagement between the aeroplanes has been reported, it is presumed the Germans escaped.

Report Made by Officials. The following official statement was given out by the war office tonight: At 8:30 p. m. today two German aeroplanes were reported approaching the coast of Kent. A few minutes later these two aeroplanes dropped three bombs in a field on the outskirts of Ramsgate. Four bombs were dropped near a school at Broadstairs. Three of the latter exploded. No casualties have been reported. No damage was caused other than to glass.

Close to City of London. The county of Kent forms the southeastern extremity of Great Britain, running north to the Thames. It includes part of the city of London. This portion of the English coast was the object of the last German attack by aeroplanes, made on Jan. 23 and 24, in which one person was killed and six were injured.

Ramsgate is a seaport and watering place on the east coast of the Isle of Thanet, 13 miles from Dover, the principal city on the Kent coast. It is the seat of shipbuilding and fishing industries. Its population is nearly 30,000. Broadstairs is a town of about 7,000, on the Isle of Thanet, two miles from Ramsgate. Both the cities are seaside pleasure resorts, and have a number of popular schools.

TWO FACTIONS OF C. O. P. UNITE AGAINST MAYOR

Deneen-Brundage Leaders Agree to Fight Together for Control.

Offensive and defensive alliance between the Deneen and the Brundage Republican factions was completed last night, as opposed to the common party foe, the city hall forces.

Agreement was reached that unless the two allied elements in all but six wards, and negotiations are still pending that may result in a satisfactory arrangement in every ward in town except the Twenty-fifth, in this Republican stronghold there will be a four cornered contest for supremacy, involving as many crowds.

The issue is whether the Deneen-Brundage or the Thompson-Lundin faction shall hold control of the new county committee to be elected April 11. Complete status of opposing candidates, representing the two main divisions, are to be put up tomorrow for state committee terms in the ten Cook county districts.

The wards at issue last night were the Fourth, Twelfth, Fifteenth, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-fourth, and Thirty-fifth. Prospects were said to be excellent for one in all but the Twenty-fifth. Here Isaac J. Spring announced his candidacy for ward committee last night. George K. Schmidt is the Brundage entry. Edward O'Neill and Mr. Bryan are classed as allied with the Deneen organization and Mr. C. W. Smith as the city hall candidate.

Democrats Line Up for Fight. While the Republicans were straightening out a possible three cornered race into a double barreled affair the Democrats were lined up thoroughly for a sharp fight and slated fight between the regular organization controlled by Roger C. Sullivan and the Harrison-Dunne-Lewis combination, that announces its determination to retire Mr. Sullivan from active politics, eliminate the following majority in the state committee, and take over the untampered control of the Cook county organization.

Mr. Sullivan and his supporters have been preparing for some time for such a situation. Two complete tickets will be in the going for state committee in every one of the twenty-five congressional districts in the state and for ward committee in the county towns of Cook county outside of the city limits.

County Clerk Robert M. Switzer holds the whip hand in stipulating whose names shall lead the respective primary tickets for ward committee. Tomorrow morning is the first day for filing petitions for these places. At the same time representatives of the fighting factions will be at the doors of Secretary of State Stevenson's office in Springfield, battling for premier position in the respective districts for district delegates and alternates and for state committee.

Names Will Rotate—Lucy. Attorney General Lucy came up from Springfield last night and settled upon the question as to whether delegate names shall rotate on the primary tickets. "There isn't the slightest question about it now," Mr. Lucy said. "The names of delegates at large will rotate by congressional districts. The secretary of state and myself are agreed upon that. The district delegates and the state committee do not rotate. The names will be specified in the order of filing with the secretary of state."

Paul J. Wentzell went to Springfield at midnight with the Deneen organization petition. Edward J. Brundage, or his personal representative, will be there to handle the Harrison and the local district petitions. John P. O'Malley went down as the bearer of the Sullivan petitions. The Harrison wing sent down petitions for Gov. Dunne, former Mayor Harrison, John W. Eckhart, and Warden Michael Zimmerman for state.

POLL CONTINUES LATE ENQUIRY

Ball count of 10,000 in the city hall, which was held yesterday, continued on this morning and first, however, the poll was not continued.

ENTRIES CLOSE FOR ALDERMEN; 204 IN THE RACE

87 Republicans, 84 Democrats, 32 Socialists, and a Moose on the List.

The entry list for primary aldermanic nominations closed at midnight. For the thirty-five places there are eighty-seven Republican starters, eighty-four Democrats, thirty-two Socialists, and one Progressive.

William B. McCormick, a newspaper reporter, captured the honor of filing the last petition. He got in with his paper as a Democratic candidate in the Twenty-seventh ward, fifteen seconds before midnight, and City Clerk Simon declared the books closed.

Only Two Women on List. But two women appear in the lists this year. One is Edith Johnson Haskins, who would like to be the Republican nominee against the Fifth House in the First ward, and the other is Ellen Usher Starr of Hull House, Socialist, in the Nineteenth.

There is a clean cut Thompson and anti-Thompson contest on the Republican side in the bulk of the wards. There are no Republican contests in the Fourth, Twelfth, Nineteenth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, and Thirty-fifth wards.

Faction Fights Hidden. The Democratic factional fight is not particularly apparent in the aldermanic lists. There is a single candidate in each of the First, Seventh, Ninth, Twelfth, Twelfth, Nineteenth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, and Thirty-fifth wards.

Carroll H. Teller, the lone Moose entry, filed as a candidate in the Sixth ward. For the vacancy on the Municipal court bench occasioned by the death of Judge Joseph E. Ryan, there are seven Republican entrants, five Democrats, and one Socialist.

SENATOR LEWIS TO IGNORE CHAIRMAN CHARLES' ATTACK

Declares Letter Charging Usurpation of Powers Is Unintelligible and Can't Be Replied To.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—(Special.) Senator Lewis today announced that he would not reply to the letter which State Chairman Charles wrote him accusing him of usurping all of the Democratic functions in Illinois.

"The three gentlemen who wrote the letter for Mr. Charles," said Senator Lewis, "labored so long and hard to make it biting and attractive that the letter is unintelligible and can only be acknowledged, not replied to."

"The only thing that was plain was that Mr. Charles calls me an 'officer' and says for that reason I should be disqualified for expressing myself as to the election of the delegates. Brother Charles is not only an officer now, but has been and continues to be, and by his standard of officerhood as disqualification Chairman Charles disqualifies himself forever."

The senator did not specify what persons he believed wrote the letter.

Miss Allen claims she carried out her part of the agreement and that $100 is due her.

apiracy count and between two and four charges of subornation of perjury.

Grow Out of Bribery. The indictments are the development of the trial of Storin, Weisbaum and Roth on charges of accepting bribes from burglars. Storin was fined $1,000, Weisbaum was sentenced to the penitentiary and Roth was acquitted. The three defendants, their two attorneys Erbstein and O'Donnell, and the three other men are now charged with having induced four witnesses to give perjured testimony in behalf of the three policemen on trial.

The four witnesses who have since turned state's evidence are Sarah Wexler, wife of "Lay" Wexler, of the "million dollar burglar trust," Abe Frank, an ex-convict, Isaac Levin, and Sarah Levin, all of whom are said to have confessed to the state's attorney that they were induced to perjure themselves on the stand in defense of the three policemen.

Witnesses Before Grand Jury. Other witnesses who were examined before the grand jury for corroborative evidence were Alex. Goldman, Alex. Toppie, saloonkeeper; Benjamin Frank, son of Abe, the ex-convict; Samuel Ball, a rubber in a west side bath house; Mary Joyce, stenographer and telephone operator in Attorney O'Donnell's office; Elmer Smith, stenographer and telephone operator in Attorney Erbstein's office; Nicholas Boon, an employee of Erbstein's office, and William Turner.

The state prosecuted the three policemen in the graft trial principally on the testimony of Isaac Wexler and Nathan Steinberg, who said on the stand that they had paid money to Weisbaum and Storin for protection. The defense refuted this evidence with the testimony of Abe Frank, an ex-convict, who swore that he had overheard Wexler and Steinberg plotting in the penitentiary to "frame" the bribery evidence against the three policemen and thereby win their parole on the recommendation of the state's attorney's office.

Denies His First Statement. Now Abe Frank swears that this testimony was false, that he never overheard Wexler and Steinberg plotting, and further that it was Weisbaum who made two trips to Joliet to see him and persuaded him to swear on the stand that Wexler and Steinberg's testimony against the

The name of Dr. William Joyce of Springfield is first on the presidential primary list for Senator Lawrence V. Sherman that will be filed at Springfield tomorrow. Dr. Joyce was one of the closest personal friends of Abraham Lincoln and was appointed governor of the Dakota territory by President Lincoln.

Senators Lewis and Sherman are due to arrive from Washington tomorrow. They will be the speakers, together with John W. Davis, governor general of the United States, at the Springfield celebration of the one hundred and seventh anniversary of Lincoln's birthday at the main annual Saturday night. Many Chicagoans expect to attend.

Announcement that women may vote for presidential delegates in Cook county has stirred up trouble here. Attorney General Lewis has ruled that women have no such right, and his decision is likely to be followed in duplicate counties. The women fear that women's suffrage will be filed in the Supreme court, now sitting at Springfield, that may negative the favorable view taken by County Judge Brady and County Clerk Smith.

policemen was manufactured. Frank says that a parole was obtained for him for testifying as he did.

Sarah Wexler, Isaac Levin and Sarah Levin told the grand jury that the testimony they gave in defense of the policemen was also all perjured and paid for by the policemen. The perjured testimony they gave tended to discredit the state's testimony of Wexler and Levin and also discredit State's Attorney Heyne, who Mrs. Wexler said, had been attentive to her and given her a box of candy.

The latest testimony of the perjured witnesses, now corroborated, is that Weisbaum paid money to Nathan Fisher who gave it to Alex. Goldman who turned it over to Mrs. Wexler. The perjury bribes amounted to between $10 and $20 a week. The indictment charges Attorney Erbstein and O'Donnell with having full knowledge of this perjury and having been instrumental, along with the other defendants, in persuading the witnesses to give the perjured testimony.

Both Indicted Before. Attorney O'Donnell was indicted in 1907 in connection with the "pin trade" scandal, when it was charged that attorneys defending personal injury suits against corporations picked "right" verdicts by returning a pin which they were in their lapel as a sign that they had been paid beforehand to bring in a verdict in favor of the corporation. O'Donnell was fined $2,000.

Attorney Erbstein was twice tried by State's Attorney Wexler in connection with the alleged bribery of a witness in the Lee O'Neill Brown case but was finally acquitted.

MOTOR TRUCKS

Wells Fargo & Company

New York, December 20, 1915

Dear Mr. Williams:

Have read with great deal of interest your booklet and interesting series of follow-up letters re the Garford Motor Truck. I am glad to hear you were kind enough to send me and ask for my opinion thereon.

It seems to me to be an admirable piece of constructive work upon which you and your company are to be congratulated. Especially when considering the many opportunities which the large number of commercial letters you have received from public officials in all parts of the United States.

The letter confirms our own experience as showing that public officials are always responsive to constructive work in improved methods which contribute to the general good.

So you as you know trying to carry upon similar lines in strengthening and improving service as an essential necessity to the business interests of the country and promoting the growth and expansion of business in general.

With best wishes,

Respectfully,

W. B. Williams, President, The Garford Motor Truck Company

Good Roads and Better Business

The Garford Motor Truck Company early appreciated that the growth of its business depended largely on the expansion of business in general.

We also appreciated the fact that no single factor so directly contributes to the prosperity of every community and its business interests, as good roads.

A national investigation of road conditions led us to solicit the co-operation of leading automobile manufacturers in a broad campaign to crystallize public sentiment in favor of a universal improvement in the condition of public highways.

We did not secure co-operation.

Consequently the Garford Motor Truck Company undertook this herculean task absolutely unaided.

After months of work in the compilation of lists and the preparation of material, we distributed some twenty thousand copies of our book "Roads—Their Influence Upon Economic and Social Conditions" among state and county officials, engineers, prominent business men and educators.

Since then requests have been received from Good Roads Associations, Chambers of Commerce and influential men for over 250,000 copies of this booklet for use in Good Roads campaigns in all sections of the country.

The letter from Mr. B. D. Caldwell, president of the Wells-Fargo Company, is typical of the many expressions received from business men.

We ask your co-operation in this work which so vitally affects the welfare of every individual. Your copy of our booklet will be mailed free upon request.

SAYS BRANDEIS AIDED RAILROADS AT PUBLIC COST

Clifford Thorne Makes Protest Against Confirmation as Supreme Justice.

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9.—(Special.)—Clifford Thorne, state railroad commissioner of Iowa, today opened the fight against the confirmation of Mr. Brandeis as a justice of the United States supreme court before the subcommittee of the senate judiciary committee.

At the conclusion of Mr. Thorne's statement it became known he had not convinced a majority of the subcommittee that Mr. Brandeis' qualifications for a place on the bench.

He concluded his statement Mr. Thorne was asked some questions by Senator Walsh of Montana which proved rather embarrassing although the Iowa commissioner had no weight with the subcommittee.

He said that Louis D. Brandeis is a man of high ability, of broad culture, and of unprofessional conduct in connection with one of the greatest cases of this generation.

Substance of Thorne Charge.

Stripped of its verbiage, Mr. Thorne's criticism against Mr. Brandeis was that: "The Iowa commissioner contended that the railroads were not entitled to any increase in their revenues, not to be paid through increased rates but through economies."

Mr. Thorne also told the committee that he regarded Mr. Brandeis as one of his enemies in the rate case and that Mr. Brandeis, in conceding the railroads' need of increased revenues without informing him in advance of the arguments of this commission, had entirely destroyed the argument he had made in opposition to any increase.

Finally it was to the public's advantage, suggested Senator Walsh of Montana, "that the railroads be granted an increase. Certainly, if Mr. Brandeis thought so, it was his duty to tell the commission so."

Charges High Rate Payor.

Mr. Thorne emphasized the point that Mr. Brandeis should not be appointed now because of his known views on the rate situation, a situation which is rapidly changing, of much greater importance than the rate case and which Mr. Brandeis has asserted that it was improper to "pack the court with men of Mr. Brandeis' ideas."

He contended that Mr. Brandeis favors shippers too high a rate of earnings for the carriers.

"A difference of 1 per cent," Mr. Thorne said, "means more than $100,000,000 a year out of the people's pocket or in them."

Throughout the hearings Democratic members of the subcommittee questioned Mr. Thorne on his personal interest in the rate case. They brought out one fact which will have an important bearing in the Brandeis fight. It was that after Thorne's statement the Iowa state fund for repaying the advances sought by the carriers in the western case he sought and obtained contributions from the Chicago railroad and other interested parties toward the preparation of his statistical tables and other evidence.

Defended by Two Men.

Gov. John M. Edman of California, president of the California railroad commission at the time the advance rate cases were pending, next took the stand, explaining that he happened to be in Washington and that somebody had put his name to the committee as a witness.

Picked to Head Billy Sunday Crusade

Charles F. Webster, D.D.

The chairmanship of the committee of 100 of the "Billy" Sunday evangelistic committee was unanimously tendered yesterday to the Rev. Charles F. Webster, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, and the Rev. John Timothy Stone of the Fourth Presbyterian church was elected acting chairman in place of the Rev. James M. Walker, resigned. More than fifty members of the committee were at a luncheon at Marshall Field's. "It was the most representative gathering of the committee we have had," the chairman said.

Dr. Webster said that he might have small tomorrow to fully consider the question before deciding.

The following committee was appointed to confer with Mr. Webster: L. Wilbur Messer, general secretary of the Chicago Y. M. C. A.; chairman; the Rev. W. C. Conner, First Presbyterian church; the Rev. M. P. Spynon, Woodlawn Baptist church; the Rev. J. S. Lead Thomas, Austin Methodist Episcopal church; the Rev. R. F. Aldrich, First Congregational church; the Rev. Charles O. McDonald, Englewood Christian church; and W. A. Peterson, treasurer of the committee of 100.

He vigorously defended Mr. Brandeis. "I have no charges to make," he said. "Our state was interested in these cases and I have been able to tell why Mr. Thorne feels as he does about Mr. Brandeis' action, and I have not found any railroad commission man who does not agree with me. Mr. Brandeis never suggested to the commission that the railroads should get the 5 per cent increase they were asking for. And as to the question of the rate case, I do not think I want to say that if Mr. Brandeis had been appearing before me as president of the California railroad commission I should have felt much surprised if he had not stated his position frankly."

Joseph N. Teal of Portland, Ore., said he was surprised that Mr. Thorne had taken the position that Mr. Brandeis had betrayed the public in these cases, because he did not believe Mr. Brandeis would betray anybody on earth, particularly the public, and because he had read the record of the advance cases.

Armour Favors Brandeis.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 9.—(Special.)—Louis D. Brandeis will be a valuable addition to the United States supreme court, is the opinion of J. Ogden Armour of Chicago, who is in Kansas city today.

"I believe Mr. Brandeis will make a very good justice," Mr. Armour said. "While I do not know him personally, I know he is well qualified to fill the position. In fact, I am sure he is, or President Wilson never would have appointed him."

"The talk that 'special privilege and the moneyed interest' are against Mr. Brandeis' appointment is not to be taken seriously. I don't believe it is true. Some senators and congressmen evidently are against the confirmation of his appointment, but that doesn't mean that big business is opposing him."

$14 RENT ROW COST IS GREAT; STILL GOING ON

"Principle" Fight Ruins Health of One and the Public Pays $1,000.

Consider this furious fight for a principle. What matter that it resulted in a clothesline quarrel over $14, that thus far it has occupied a thousand dollars worth of the time of public officials, that it has cost the immediate parties to the issue large sums of cash and even larger sums in time consumed, and that it has shattered the health of one of them?

Carl O. F. Burkstrom, who lives at 2133 Hudson avenue, and manufacturer, a nerve tonic, last night ran his fingers through his gray hair and exclaimed: "My hair six years ago had in it not one thread of gray. Ah, if I should see that man for the trouble he has caused me, I should sue for not less than $25,000."

"That man" is Edward Levy.

That man is Edward Levy, owner of a meat market at 1440 North Clark street and a director of the German bank of Chicago.

On Feb. 24, 1910, Burkstrom leased from Levy a residence at 1440 North Clark street. Later Burkstrom moved from the premises, at Levy's request, he says. But Levy denies he made the request.

Levy wanted $25 damages. Burkstrom was willing to pay $11. Levy refused. On Dec. 1, 1910, he obtained from Municipal Judge O'Connell a judgment of $25,000 a year—a judgment on the lease for $25, of which $25 was for rent and $20 for attorney's fees.

Stues Out Writ of Error.

On Jan. 19, 1911, Burkstrom sued out a writ of error to the Appellate court. Justices Fitch, McHenry, and Crilly, each of whom receives an annual salary of $10,000, or $41.67 a working day, consumed a day considering the case. On Nov. 7, 1911, they reversed the decision, and Levy paid $71 costs.

In 1910 the case was tried before Municipal Judge Raftery—salary, $4,000 a year—who rendered a $25 judgment in Levy's favor. Burkstrom appealed. Justices Crilly, Burrows and Smith each devoted another $41.67 day to study of the case and then affirmed the judgment. Burkstrom could not appeal, since the case involving less than $1,000 the Appellate court is the last resort. Burkstrom paid $125 court costs.

On Nov. 29, 1910, Levy sued for $45 for damages done to his property by Burkstrom. A $8,000 Municipal court judge and twelve jurors sat a day's time before the jury returned a $5 verdict against Burkstrom.

Then Levy sued for $200 attorneys' fees in the various fights. A jury before Judge Newcomb, after giving all Friday and half of Monday to the case, found Burkstrom not guilty.

Now Levy wants another trial and Burkstrom threatens to sue for the time he has had to spend in the last five years. "Fourteen dollars," said he. "No, it's a agittive principle."

MISS COX SEES "PLOT" BY FOES

Denies Alienation and Asails "Persecutors" in Bacon Affair.

"EXPLAINS" THAT NOTE

Miss Ada M. Cox had a busy day yesterday. The subject of a half a dozen local battles, she found herself with another fight on her hands.

After denying that she alienated the affections of Samuel H. Brown, a teaming contractor with office at 442 Plymouth court, she prepared a petition defending herself against the charges made by Mrs. Basile A. Sherman, a woman detective, that she had lived with Lawrence E. Brown, as his wife at several hotels outside of Chicago.

Earlier in the day her attorney, George Remus, waived the service of process and filed the appearance of Miss Cox and himself as her attorney in the suit for $11,425 damages brought against Miss Cox by Mrs. Alice Brown, wife of the missing contractor.

Says She's Persecuted.

Miss Cox was bitter in her denunciation of what she calls her persecutors. She charges that the Brown suit and the suit of the King Detective agency against Mrs. H. R. Turner, the mother-in-law of William Rufus Edwards, millionaire St. Paul lumberman, are part of a conspiracy to impeach her testimony in the case pending in the United States District court against Edwards. The case is for violation of the Mann act, with Miss Cox as the accused.

"Why do they persist in persecuting me?" cried Miss Cox. "First Mr. Brown, then the King Detective agency, then Mrs. H. R. Turner, the mother-in-law of William Rufus Edwards, millionaire St. Paul lumberman, are part of a conspiracy to impeach her testimony in the case pending in the United States District court against Edwards. The case is for violation of the Mann act, with Miss Cox as the accused."

Took Her to Madison.

"I took her to Madison, Wis., for her health. Mr. Brown was a friend of hers and asked me to inform her as to her condition on my return. I called him up at his home. The next day he phoned me and asked me to take lunch with him and tell him more about Miss Elliott's condition. We went to Reister."

"I admit that I wrote a letter to him in which some one has misconstrued the meaning. I told him that just because he had another love was no reason why he should neglect his other friends. I was simply 'causing him down.' For not keeping an engagement he had with me and a party of girl friends of Miss Elliott's, after her death."

Saw Letter from Brown.

Miss Cox said she had seen a letter from Brown written to a friend since his disappearance in which he stated that he was with a woman who had not only once, but twice, been married.

The petition Miss Cox alleges "that the evidence introduced before Master in 'Cannery Brewnar is entirely false and inconsistent with the facts, and that the testimony given as a result of passion, bias and prejudice on the part of Mrs. Basile Sherman, toward Miss Cox for the sole purpose of impeaching the testimony of Miss Cox in the case pending in the United States court against Mr. E. Edwards, and for the sole purpose of defaming, disgracing, and injuring the character and reputation of Miss Cox."

Attorney Stephen A. Mainis said he will ask for an early hearing of the case of Mrs. Brown against Miss Cox.

SUFFRAGE DEMONSTRATION AT DEMOCRAT CONVENTION.

Mrs. Cath. President of Women's National Association Makes Arrangements in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 9.—Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National Women's Suffrage association, who came to St. Louis today to make preliminary arrangements for a suffrage demonstration here during the Democratic national convention in June, today addressed the City club on "Suffrage and Politics."

She said that she felt sure men's heads were convinced that women suffrage was right, but that they refused to allow their hearts to become convinced.

"Twenty years ago," she said, "men argued that if women had the vote they would be unsexed, that they would stand around on the corners smoking long black cigars and swapping jokes. Their argument was based on a syllogism; men stood on the corners, smoked long black cigars, and swapped jokes, and men had the vote. Therefore, if women voted they would do the same. Education has done away with that kind of reasoning."

House to Get Suffrage Bill.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 9.—A house judiciary subcommittee by a vote of 4 to 3 today recommended to the full committee the reporting to the house "without recommendation" of the Susan B. Anthony constitutional amendment for nationwide woman suffrage.

EXHIBITION of Rare and Important LINCOLNIANA

Portrait of Abraham Lincoln, painted at Springfield, Illinois, in 1860-61, after Lincoln was elected President and before he was inaugurated. This portrait was painted from life by the noted artist, Jesse Atwood of Philadelphia, who also painted from life, President John Quincy Adams, Zachary Taylor and Franklin Pierce.

Rare prints and engravings of Lincoln and the famous men of his time done by the leading artists of the early '60s.

Eleven political cartoons and caricatures used by the conflicting political parties during a campaign never equaled in intensity and bitterness of feeling—the Lincoln-McClellan campaign of '64.

This collection explains the trials and perils of Lincoln's national career in a way no historian today using only words could hope to equal.

BY MAROON.

Illinois defeated Chicago, 30 to 17, by a half in a basketball game at the end of the first half in Bartlett gymnasium last night. Around the Wood twins a brilliant offense was perfected that swept the Maroons off their feet. Ray Woods scored six baskets, five of which came at the close of the first half, giving Illinois a 16 to 9 lead on the Maroons.

Maroons Tie the Score.

Chicago started with a rush and scored six points on baskets by George Parker and Schaefer before Coach Jones' team put under way. Capt. Woods halted the Maroons by a series of passes and then Ray Woods took his turn at shooting baskets when the Illinois offense got to working.

Two Chased from Game.

Parker of Chicago and Elwell of the visitors fouled four times and were ejected from the game. Ray Woods had a hand with five free throws and only four of his eleven chances. Schaefer counted seven of his nine penalty shots. Lineup:

TRAINMEN TELL WHY 8 HOUR DAY IS TO BE ASKED

Extra Service to Command
Extra Pay; Trains Overloaded;
Do Not Oppose Arbitration.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 9.—The eight hour movement is being made in the justice of a work day of reasonable hours that will permit the men further to separate the dead line between work and wages," says the first official statement regarding the pending controversy between railroad men and the country and their train crews.

It was issued here tonight and signed by W. E. Stone for the Brotherhood of Railway Men, W. S. Carter for the trainmen and engineers, L. E. Sheppard for the railroad conductors and W. G. Lee for the railroad firemen. These organizations claim to represent 200,000 employees on 228 lines.

Scarcity Men's Health.
Overcoming the sin of almost wholly to the practice of railroad men, the statement says that they cannot make their mileage within their time limit. "The statement says that the railroad men are doing this for profit, they do not deny it, and if they propose to demand extra service at the sacrifice of the health and future earning ability of the men, they should pay extra for it."

Not Due to Business Boom.
The statement denied that the present demand for "peak" earnings of the railroad men is due to the present boom in business. "It is true that in the past few years the railroad men have been asked to make sacrifices to meet the needs of the business boom, but the statement says that the railroad men are not opposed to arbitration, neither are they opposed to accept it," said the statement.

LOOSE SCREW OF GUN PERILS LIFE

Tests Show Why Policeman Could Not Fire in Revolver Battle.

CHANGES PLANNED.

A loose tension screw in the revolver of Patrolman W. G. Kelly was what prevented the proper discharge of the weapon in his fight with gangsters at Desplaines and Kinzie streets Tuesday night. Whether the loose screw was in the gun or whether it worked loose, has not been determined, but it was this fault in the weapon that rendered it practically useless in the fight.

On the inside of the butt of the revolver of the police officer, Kelly, is a small screw that adjusts the pressure of the main spring upon the hammer. In Kelly's gun this screw was loosened so far that it barely touched the spring. Had it been tightened a quarter of an inch every one of the cartridges in the weapon would have been discharged.

Still Another Fault.
Another slight fault that contributed toward crippling the revolver was found in the movable firing pin. Ordinarily this spring, slightly on a pivot, so that it passed cleanly through an opening immediately back of the cylinder carries the firing pin. In this instance the pin had become loose and scraped against the side of the opening, thereby further reducing the pressure of the blow upon the cap.

Patrolman Kelly tested the revolver. He found that in using the weapon as Kelly used it—"on the double action," or using merely the trigger without cocking the hammer in advance—the snap of the hammer was not sufficient to explode the cartridges. The tap was only slightly cocked. When the hammer was at full cock and then released "on the single action" every shot was dead.

May Be Regular Tests.
"We have three inspectors of personal who inspect the men and their weapons," said M. J. Shanley, "but their time is so limited at all calls that they can make only visual inspections of the revolver. Visual inspection never would have disclosed these faults. The only way that would have disclosed it would have been to fire the revolver. Kelly used this weapon without trouble at target practice last July and again last September, but he used it on the single action. There was no reason to suspect its inefficiency."

Same Man Believed to Have Robbed Three Places—Held After Escape.

Three saloons were visited in the usual early morning holdups yesterday and the police believe all the calls were made by the same robber. He was not caught. The places visited were:

The Mustang, 625 Broadway, where the holdup man, a girl named and 18 from the Mustang, five shots from the Mustang revolver followed the holdup man as he left. The Mustang, 625 Broadway, where the holdup man and seven were held in a holdup. The cash register was relieved of $20 and the Mustang of their letters.

The men were armed in each case, and the holdup, according to the police, resembled the robbery which occurred Tuesday night in his brother's saloon at 5000 South State street last week.

WOMAN'S CLUB, REFORM PIONEER, TO ERECT HOME

Organization, Long Battler for Right, Begins Raising
Building Fund.

TRouble IN FINDING A SITE.

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

The Chicago Women's club, a club of forty years old and admitted to it has lived long enough in light house-keeping rooms. It wants and is determined to have a home of its own. Its 1,200 members—or as many of them as could be crowded into the hall at the Fine Arts building—met yesterday to discuss plans. A clubhouse in downtown Chicago means an expenditure of more than half a million dollars. The club has spent a considerable sum in promoting and reporting most of the various social and philanthropic innovations which Chicago, as a whole, has adopted and adopted about. But it has not had much experience in raising money for itself. It has been too busy working for the good of the whole town. Also it has been under one handicap, which most men's clubs are free from. It doesn't care to build a clubhouse until it has the money to hand to pay for it.

Raising Fund Starts with Rush.
Already a good start has been made in raising the necessary funds. Julius Rosenberg has agreed to be one of five men to subscribe $50,000. An anonymous friend has put down his name for $10,000. Up to the hour of the meeting yesterday afternoon members and friends of the club had subscribed a total of $50,000. Before it adjourned an additional sum of $10,000, mostly in the shape of perpetual memberships, costing $1,000 each, had been subscribed by the members.

It is unfortunate that most of the people of Chicago could not have attended the meeting. It was a lesson in real estate to have the matter decided by Mrs. Eleanor W. Cooley of some of the things in the present community life for which the club has been responsible.

Back of Many Reforms.
Naturally the club members, most of them mothers, have been greatly interested in the public schools. They started the first kindergarten and supported it until men, slower in perception, realized its value, and made the kindergarten an integral part of the school system. Training in sewing and all the domestic arts was another project promoted and put on its feet by members of the club. They founded the first vocational school.

The first work of the public school system as did the Public School Art society and other similar activities, also branched off from the parent stem and became separate organizations.

Speaking generally, the club has always been a prophet and a teacher of better things. First showing the men who control the machinery of government what a worth while, then teaching them how to get the desired results.

When the men are converted and ready to get it for their own, the club has always shown the necessary papers and ways on to take up some new work. Perhaps a more man may be permitted to advise why women who have actually accomplished so much think it necessary to work with men to seek for further and wider opportunities.

Leader in Other Movements.
It was in the rented rooms of the Chicago Women's club that the great National Federation of Women's clubs was born. It was here that the first impulse was given to the great movement of internationalism. Neither Europe nor the people of Chicago give the credit which it really deserves.

Woman's club which has such an outstanding record feels that it is a permanent home.

Cupid's Tricks Tie Up Office of U. S. Sen. La Follette

Private Secretary Becomes Bride of Wisconsin
Man's Editor-in-Chief.

ALMOST ELOPEMENT

United States Senator La Follette lost a rattling good private secretary yesterday and Frederick MacKenzie, managing editor of La Follette's Magazine, won a wife when the latter wed Miss Nellie Dunn of Madison, Wis.

While it was not an honest to goodness elopement, they did at least steal a march on a lot of friends in Madison by coming to Chicago and thence going to La Follette's office where they were married by the Rev. Father J. M. Naughton.

Mr. MacKenzie has edited Senator La Follette's magazine ever since it was started. Mrs. MacKenzie has been his confidential secretary ever since he was sent to Washington. Both have been in the thick of his political fights.

Met in Political Fight.

They met during a hot political fight in which the doughty senator from Wisconsin was boarding the corporate line in his den. The fighting young editor admired the way this slender, red-haired girl handled correspondence, reporters and politicians.

She admired the way he fearlessly took off his coat, waded into the fight, and then wrote about it in the magazine. Senator La Follette admired them both and they have a set of ideas that he helped to put up the moon.

La Follette's Ruminations.

When they recently went to him and told him they were going to be married, he is reported to have ruminated thusly:

"I suppose I lose the best confidential secretary in the world, but I gain a first class secretary editor for the magazine—I should be gratified. Bless you, my children."

So, two days ago, bidding a hearty farewell to friends in Madison, they came to Chicago to visit Mr. and Mrs. Paul Henderson of 3829 Michigan avenue. Yesterday they stole away to Racine, for Father Naughton is an old friend of the bride's family. She is a daughter of Matthew Dunn of Madison.

This morning they will start for New Orleans and spend a month cruising along the Gulf coast, returning to Madison via Washington. Last night they entertained a few close friends at the Hotel La Salle.

BURNHAM FIRE NO MYSTERY.

Coroner Hoffman Says Death of Laura Clarke in Boardhouse Blame Was Accidental.

Coroner Hoffman yesterday expressed the opinion that the death of Laura Clarke, also known as Rose Stanley, in "Porky" Terrell's boardhouse at Burnham Monday night was accidental. The inquest will determine definitely.

Coroner's Physician Joseph Springer is post-mortem on what remained of the woman's body and found nothing to support any suspicion that the woman was dead before the fire. The insurance company investigators told Coroner Hoffman that the fire was caused by an over-heated stove.

The Burnham authorities say that John Terrell, alias "Porky," a former Twenty-second street character, was interested in the place. They say he is in the east and that the burned establishment was operated as a rooming house by Helen Herald, a widow.

VICTIM'S WIFE FRIEND HELD

Charles Roder, City Fireman, Taken as Suspect in Stephen J. Nowak Murder.

Charles Roder of 2014 Quinn avenue, a city fireman attached to engine company No. 46 at Forty-sixth street and Cottage Grove avenue, was taken into custody yesterday by the Deering street police in connection with the death of Stephen J. Nowak, found fatally shot in his saloon, 3077 Throop street.

The information which led to the arrest was telephoned by a woman to the brother of the dead man, Henry Nowak, a director of the National Wire and Lumber company, 380 South Ashland avenue. The woman declared Roder was a friend of Mrs. Nowak and had been heard to threaten her husband's life.

WASHTUB 'DICK' CHANTS PROWESS TO MIDNIGHT AIR

Boarders Kick, Hence Wife Has
Police Put Muzzle on Her
Author-Husband.

NOT TO BLUSH UNSEEN.

Clifton W. Woodbridge, the thinking machine detective-author, was himself arrested yesterday by an undisciplined cop whose only mental effort consisted in finding all East Forty-second place and handing the psychic sleuth a warrant.

Mr. Woodbridge's arrest was caused by his daughter, Miss Ethel Woodbridge, acting on her mother's instructions. The charge was disorderly conduct.

In one of Mr. Woodbridge's numerous works on crime and its detection one finds this admission: "Always examine every human act to discover motive. It is there if you can find it."

Seven years ago the detective and Mrs. Woodbridge were divorced, but continued thereafter to live under the same roof in platonic amity. Mrs. Woodbridge took in boarders, of whom the detective was one.

The possible division of labor was such that Mr. Woodbridge, a man of esthetic tastes, and devotee of the ineffable, always viewed with horror and disgust the periodic reappearance of Monday. But not more so than did Mrs. Woodbridge. For Mr. Woodbridge did the washing on Monday.

The "Melling Pot" Tub.

This arrangement was entirely to Mrs. Woodbridge's advantage, but she adopted a flimsy attitude in respect to Mr. Woodbridge's domestic socks, napkins, table linen, underwear, and handkerchiefs into one democratic washtub. An impasse usually resulted.

Following these strains the detective would retire to his "library study" and take the full metric punch of his scientific revenge. It should be known that Mr. Woodbridge was a prolific author on crime—"Hands Up! on the World of Crime," "The Detective's Handbook," or "Mysteries of the Underworld," and "The Detective's Guide to Success"—all of which did not fail to flatter the Nottingham bazaar.

And He Read, Read, Read.
As of that evening, the detective would take down one of his own works, and begin to read aloud and far into the night of his own adventures among the "denizens of the underworld." Mrs. Woodbridge, who, when trying to get a hammerlock hold on some sleep, would be forced to listen to heroic passages.

"When I told Mr. Woodbridge to quit the readings, and explained that it was distasteful to the boarders, he would reply in a rage," said Mrs. Woodbridge. "Then he would order the boarders out of the house. The nuisance became unbearable. He was a pest. A new boarder would not arrive before he would put an awful of his books into his arms and tell him to read those and shut out who Woodbridge was."

Woodbridge was taken to the Elmhurst station, but was released on bonds. Mrs. Woodbridge was told that if he returned and started any trouble to notify the police. Mr. Woodbridge did return and he did start some trouble. A boarder entered his room, according to Mrs. Woodbridge, and the detective ordered him out and threatened to discontinue him.

"I went to the telephone to call the police and he took his hat and left," said Mrs. Woodbridge.

"His Favorite Author."
The case will be heard today. It is understood that Mrs. Woodbridge has gathered up all of Mr. Woodbridge's false beard and reversible fighting change coats—drawn out on one side, even to the collar—and that she is going to give them and her former lord the "rum" at the same time.

One of the books which were published under Mr. Woodbridge's name, it has been ascertained, was not written by the famous crime investigator. "Hands Up! On the World of Crime" was written by a Chicago newspaper reporter on information given by Woodbridge.

"I said for you there to give him reading," said the reporter. "He would sit still and fascinated until I read some passage, while he shone with particular brilliance. 'Read that over,' he would order. 'I spent more time reading that book than I did writing it.'"

MISS STARR TO STICK IN RACE

Doesn't Expect to Be Elected Alderman, but Will Do Her Best.

There is one candidate for alderman this year who will be just the least bit disappointed if her friends happen to be so indisposed to elect her. Miss Starr, expected, the unforeseen, should happen, however, she stated yesterday, she will not shrink her duties. She will be good an alderman as she possibly can.

This candidate is Miss Ellen Gattas Starr of Hull house. She is the Socialist candidate for alderman in the Nineteenth ward. She has made but one speech so far in behalf of her candidacy. She feels, with some measure of reluctance, that she may be drawn into more speeches, although she would rather exert herself to assist in the reelection of William Rodriguez in the Fifteenth ward.

In her speech Miss Starr stated that in her apartment at Hull house, "I do not believe it is generally said by candidates, no matter what they think."

"But if such an unlooked for thing as my election should take place I would not 'lay down' on the job."

"I was told that there was no other Socialist in the ward to go on the ticket and I couldn't reasonably decline. My only excuse not to run would be laziness, and one couldn't make such an excuse. I don't believe either a woman or a Socialist could be elected in this ward. The machine is too strong."

A boarder entered his room, according to Mrs. Woodbridge, and the detective ordered him out and threatened to discontinue him.

"I went to the telephone to call the police and he took his hat and left," said Mrs. Woodbridge.

"His Favorite Author."
The case will be heard today. It is understood that Mrs. Woodbridge has gathered up all of Mr. Woodbridge's false beard and reversible fighting change coats—drawn out on one side, even to the collar—and that she is going to give them and her former lord the "rum" at the same time.

GETS A DIVORCE IN RECORD TIME

Mrs. Witt K. Cochrane's
Evidence Substantiated
by Husband.

Mrs. Belle Hans Cochrane was granted a divorce yesterday from Witt K. Cochrane on grounds of infidelity. The decree was granted within a few hours after Mrs. Cochrane had filed her bill. Mrs. Cochrane is president of the W. K. Cochrane Advertising agency.

The court awarded to Mrs. Cochrane the custody of their 10-year-old son, Witt K. Jr., and allowed $500 a month alimony, in addition to a yearly sum sufficient to clothe the boy and pay for his school tuition.

Fourteen Years Together.
Mrs. Cochrane, who lives at 1708 East Fifty-sixth street, testified that they were married in 1901 and lived together until January, 1915.

"At that time," she said, "I found some letters. They were full of endearing terms and ended with 'Love and kisses.' 'Where did you find them and what did you do?' asked Attorney John A. Bloomington, appearing for Mrs. Cochrane.

"They dropped out of his pocket and I found one in his dresser drawer. When I accused him of being in love with this woman, he said there wasn't anything to it, but finally admitted it. He also admitted that he had had improper relations with her on different occasions." The other woman's name was not mentioned in the hearing.

Substantive Wife's Statement.
Mrs. Cochrane then took the stand and said her husband had told the facts as they are.

"Has there been any collusion, or was this confession made by way of collusion?" he was asked.

"O, no, it was sincere," was his reply. "It came about naturally."

"You are confessing to a man for a wrong done?"

"That is the idea exactly."

According to Mrs. Cochrane's bill, her husband has an income of $10,000 a year, and is the owner of property worth $100,000.

Love Scorns a Mother.
Charles Felser Refuses Parents' Pleadings to Give Up Miss Irene Flynn.

Love scorned the threats, tears, and pleadings of a gray haired mother yesterday and continued to be love.

Miss Irene Flynn of 5021 Indiana avenue and Charles Felser flatly refused to give another up when the demand was made by the young man's mother and brothers in the Morris court.

"We love each other," they chorused, answering all argument with finality.

Henry Felser, a brother of the living one, testified Charles scarcely ever came home any more. He said he and Miss Flynn were cabaret rounders, and that once he had found them together in a south side flat. The case was continued until April 12.

Tatum Case Heard.
At the conclusion of testimony and argument yesterday in the case of Edward L. Tatum, charged with appropriating $1,100 received from consumers for four belonging to Frank C. Clark, Judge Arnold Hemp took the matter under advisement. He will give his decision soon.

POISON GOSSIP CAUSED WOMAN TO SLAY SELF?

Mrs. Grace V. Smith, Supposed
Plomaine Victim, Believed
Driven to Suicide.

ASSAILED BY HER NEIGHBORS.

Mrs. Grace V. Smith, the Melrose Park woman whose death on Feb. 3 was reported to have been caused by plomaine poisoning, is now believed to have committed suicide because she suspected the neighbors of talking about her.

Detective Sergeant George T. Sorvino so reported to Coroner Hoffman after an investigation based on Chas. William D. McNelly's discovery of a large quantity of arsenic in the woman's stomach.

Geta Verbal Teaching.
In the latter part of January, Mrs. Smith, wife of V. G. Smith, a collector for the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, was taken ill. She informed her husband on his return from work that her illness was caused by eating salmon. She was taken to the Oak Park hospital and died there, and the attending physicians, basing their opinion on her story of the cause, reported it as plomaine poisoning.

Hears Neighbor Gossip.
But there was neighborhood gossip and it reached the ears of Coroner Hoffman. He directed that the inquest be postponed until Feb. 24 in order to permit a chemical examination.

Smith and his children accompanied the corpse to Prospect, Tenn., the former home of the family. Smith has not yet returned in Chicago. He bears an excellent reputation. The coroner believed the woman was driven to take her life by "poison tongues."

LUCEY TO ASK RECEIVER FOR CLOSED DOLTON BANK.

Cashier Says Move Will Change the Plans for Reorganization Scheduled for Today.

Attorney General Patrick J. Lucey of Illinois arrived in Chicago last night and announced that he will make application today in the Superior court for the appointment of a receiver for the Dolton State Bank of Dolton, Ill.

The bank has been closed since Jan. 8, as the result of a "closed" vote by depositors who became worried after the suicide of Charles Ledwith, president of the Fox River Distilling company. Ledwith left a note in which he confessed to forging $100,000 worth of banknotes receipts, some of which were said to have been deposited in the Dolton bank.

Louisa Kipley, cashier of the bank and son of Peter Kipley, the founder of the institution, told Mrs. Thurstun last night that a meeting of depositors and stockholders had been arranged for today, and that plans had been perfected for the taking in of $25,000 more capital, by which the bank could open its doors. The filing of a petition for receiver will stop this move.

FIND FIREMEN NOT GUILTY.

Jury Tries J. Kelly, P. J. Leonard, and J. J. Sheehan, Accused of Offending Alderman Brink.

A jury in Judge Barrett's court last night returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of City Firemen Peter J. Kelly, P. J. Leonard, and J. J. Sheehan, who were accused of offending Alderman Oscar De Priest of the Second ward $500 to secure their promotion to lieutenantcies.

The alderman said Leonard had offered him $500 and Sheehan and Kelly $250 each for their promotions. The defendants did not deny having offered to pay the money to rise in the service, but said they were victims of a plot on the part of John W. E. Hawkins of Second Deputy Police Superintendent Funkhouser's office. It was at Hawkins' suggestion, they said, that the money was tendered.

The alderman was defended by Attorney John L. McInerney.

WHEAT DECLINE FOLLOWS RALLY; DEMAND SLACK

Outsiders Refuse to Follow the Bull Leaders; All Grains
Weak at Finish.

Wheat prices were higher early on buyers by bull leaders. On the advance there was heavy selling by commission houses, while outside failed to follow the bull leaders as they have been doing recently. Offerings were larger than the bulls could take, and from the top values of the day there was a big slump. Closing quotations were 5/16 to 1/2 lower. Cables were unchanged to 1/4 off, but this did not have much effect early, offerings being light, while there was a fair demand.

Reports that Nebraska was shipping wheat more freely and that the situation in the southwest was reaching a turning point, with heavy supplies at Kansas City, the grain ports, and in transit, with the dispatching reports in regard to German sea operations, checked the outside demand. After the preliminary heavy tone, the market showed a decidedly heavy tone.

Export Demand Less Urgent.
The cash demand was much less urgent than on the previous day and sales from here were only 60,000 bu. Kansas City reported some sales for export, with strong bids, but on the whole the foreign demand was disappointing to the bulls. Some outside advice said that receipts would be limited only by the number of ships provided, as the elevators throughout Kansas were full. In the northwest the cold weather is checking the movement of grain inland and exports are expected to be moderate for a time.

Some improvement was noted in the flour trade at Minneapolis, some export business having been consummated. Receipts northwest were 20 cars, against 100 cars a year ago. Flour was 1/4 higher, while wheat was 1/4 lower, and Minneapolis had 120 cars; last year, 200 cars.

Commission Houses Sellers.
The selling of wheat was led by Harris-Wright, Lamson, McKenna-Rodgers, Hamilton, Lamm, Logan-Bryan, Utter, and W. J. C. & Co. with W. J. C. & Co. having the largest share. Harris-Wright was the only one who was not a seller, and for this reason local outside buyers were not disposed to follow the advance in price. Prices at the close were heavy as low as on Monday. Receipts were 60 cars. Clearances for the day were 1,200,000 bu. Minneapolis stock was 1,200,000 bu. for four days. Weather conditions were normal and the foreign crop conditions were generally favorable. In Australia and Argentina conditions are favorable for shipping, but rates are still high, limiting the trade.

Less Heavy in Corn.
The corn market closed weak and lower after a sharp advance early. Shorts covered on the advance, while commission houses filled the pit with selling orders. From the high point the selling was followed by a drop in price, and closing prices were 1/4 to 1/2 lower for both May and July. The cash demand was not so strong as on Monday, but it was not so weak as on Tuesday. Weather conditions were favorable for handling corn, but scarcity of cars is general throughout the west. Part of the early strength was due to the report of a heavy advance at Liverpool. Receipts were 1,200 cars, but no export business was reported.
